ADVENTURES OF CONFEDERATE BLOCKADE RUNNERS.

HOW A CONFEDERATE BLOCKADE RUNNER HOODWINKED A BRITISH NAVAL OFFICER.

The "Kate" was as clean as a new pin, officers and men dressed for company, and Captain Tom, with the easy courtesy of a man of the world, quickly made every individual on board feel as if he, she and it were his own personal guests. No man knows how to plant and reap blessings better than Tom Oakey. The fine band of the second West India Regiment—all blacks—was on board, and added to the zest of the occasion with music that would not be discreditable in the Tuileries Theatre or Hyde Park. I ought to tell you, by the way, that this regiment is composed entirely of negroes, every one of whom is a picked man, six feet in height, and when they appear on parade, dressed in their Zouave uniform, and drilled so that they move like a vast machine, there is not a more striking military spectacle on a small scale to be seen on this mundane sphere. The officers are all white, and, as a general thing, educated.

After steaming around for three or four hours, we ran up to the eastward and came to anchor. The awnings were spread and the decks cleared for a dinner. Meanwhile, the steward and his assistants had prepared the handsomest banquet which the place and circumstances could afford; and if ever the royal road to people's hearts was found through the human stomach, it was certainly discovered on that occasion. The dignitaries of the island were all graciousness, and as the wine flowed and tongues loosened, I saw the target, at which Captain Tom was driving his hospitable lance.

It's so easy to blind a man's eyes with a good dinner. In nine cases out of ten, a basket of champagne will warp a man's conscience to the most accommodating degree; and it has not unfrequently proved the fact that when a government official is concerned in contraband transactions, the cloak he wraps around him is like that of charity itself—"it covereth a multitude of sins."

An evidence of the intensity of feeling at this time among islanders, was furnished on our trip back in the afternoon. The mate of a vessel lying at one of the wharves, seeing us approaching with the English colors at our masthead, ran up to his own fore peak the cross of St. George beneath the stars and stripes. This act so enraged the citizens that they went on board of the American vessel, tore down the American flag, and in a moment rent it in a thousand tatters. On landing, the officers of the West India Regiment, who had been our guests, likewise excited at what they deemed an insult to the Queen, rushed into the crowd, gathered all the fragments they could obtain and carried them to their quarters. The upshot of the affair was, that in the course of an hour the captain of the vessel came on board of the "Kate" and apologized for what he called the unwarrantable act of his drunken mate. Tom, as a matter of course, took the apology with all the dignity of a bloody minded and indignant Englishman, and was not appeased until the skipper balanced accounts with a case of the best brandy in port. Consul Sam, Whiting—a jolly good fellow, by the way—was not so easily satisfied, and making complaint the next day to the Governor of the island, every blessed West Indian who had a fragment of the unfortunate banner as big as a ten cent piece, was obliged to deliver the same to the irate representative of the United States of America, after which, suitable apology was made by the authorities of the island.

The way was now paved for the accomplishment of our object, which was to obtain a cargo of arms and ammunition of war, that had been ordered by the Confederate Government, and which it was vitally important should be placed in the hands of our Western army, then in the vicinity of Corinth, with the least possible delay.

This war material had been brought to Nassau by an English brig, and a part of her cargo was unloaded at the dock, but as suspicion had been aroused that things were not exactly what they seemed, she had dropped down some distance from the town and lay in the stream awaiting our arrival. As many vessels were constantly coming and going, these movements occasioned no especial comment. In two days after our excursion party we sailed, steaming up to the dock took in the portion of cargo which had been deposited as above described. We then dropped down alongside of the English brig.

The custom house officer detached to attend us, was as black as your hat, but nevertheless, a courteous and intelligent official. Oakey had industriously cultivated this fellow's acquaintance, and he was so completely magnetized by the peculiar manipulations of the old blockade runner, that he never saw anything which was not proper to be seen, except twenty dollar gold pieces or a bottle of wine, and, for all Confederate purposes, was as blind as an owl in the sunlight.

The arms and accoutrements were packed in boxes and marked "Hardware," and in all probability the custom house official aforesaid, is to the present day, prepared to swear the most horrible oath that they contained in truth only legitimate spades and shovels, manufactured in Springfield, Mass.

We had been hurrying in the cargo for about three hours, when the captain of an English gunboat rowed alongside and came on board. He was a great, hearty old fellow, of the bull-dog stripe, chunky, broad-shouldered, yellow haired, and red faced, with those pretty blossoms on his rosy features which are the unmistakable symptoms of a devotee at the shrine of John Barleycorn. Tom knew his man in a minute, and guessed his errand; and you never saw one of the feline species proceed to play with a captive mouse more adroitly than was done on this important occasion.

Vast interests were at stake. None knew better than Captain Oakey that perhaps the Confederate success in the daily expected battle of Shiloh depended on the safe transit and delivery of these arms, and no man could possibly feel the responsibility of the hour more gravely than himself, for before our departure, letter upon letter had been sent to Charleston from both officers of the army and of the government, begging us by every consideration to forward them with all possible dispatch. "Good morning, Captain, I am glad to see you," was Oakey's off hand greeting. They had met before on previous visits of our blockade runners to Nassau.

"Morn'n', morn'n', morn'n'," growled the old sea dog, extending a fat, freckled hand, that looked as if at some time it had been the dipper of a turtle.

"Just in time," said Tom. "I've just ordered a t d'dy; d'ye ever drink?"

"Drink sir, drink sir, aye, aye, by Jove try me; I'm like the Irishman, sir the Irishman; if I don't drink d—n it, make me drink, sir, make me drink." After these pyrotechnic ejaculations, the venerable mariner gave vent to a series of abdominal cackles, which shook his corporosity like the premonitory tremors of a young earth quake.

"Walk aft," said Tom.

"By the way," remarked the old salt, as they moved towards the cabin, "the guv'ner yonder has a fancy that you are shipping arms for the Confederates—ha! ha! good joke, sir, good joke; shipping arms under Her Majesty's nose. Wanted me to come off and see what you're doing—egad, sir, what you're doing. And I've come, I've come, sir."

"That's right," said Tom, "I'm glad to welcome you. Look around for yourself; there's a pile of Loes, some shovels and spades, and when you go below we'll have the boxes opened, and I'll show you the prettiest lot of hardware ever shipped from Great Britain. But come along to the cabin and let's drink first."

With that Oakey ushered his visitor into the private cabin of the "Kate," and closed the door on that side of the ship from which she was every moment receiving her warlike cargo.

"What shall it be? I've a little of all sorts." "Take some champagne," said Tom.

"A little brandy first, cap'n—brandy first. Brandy's a sheet anchor, cap'n, a sheet anchor—no water, thank'ee, no water; they don't agree, as the Irishman said, when he gave the Pope a recipe for making punch."

"How was that?" asked Tom.

"First pour in the brandy, then add the sugar, but, 'gad, sir, every drop of water you put in after that, spoils the punch, sir, spoils the punch."

Oakey plied his guest with questions, and kept him busy with answers, every three or four minutes putting in a liquid punctuation point in the shape of brandy, and now of champagne, until the British captain was in an precarious state of personal felicity. At first he was strictly and most impartially neutral—the very essence of a representative Briton, dutifully engaged; but the more he practiced multiplication with Johannes Barleycorn the kinder grew his sympathies, until finally kindled into enthusiasm, about fifteen glasses deep, he threw his arms affectionately around Tom, and exclaimed with intoxicated pathos, "Nev'r mind 'e 'ardware, cap'n—never mind! Ye see, ye see, h'e—it's all right—by Jove, all right, h'e. I'm with ye, h'e—with ye 'eart and soul, by Jove—'eart and soul, h'e." The last words were grandly emphatic, accompanied with a stroke on Tom's back, which the old salt doubtless intended to be particularly fraternal, but which Tom avers, to this day, was very much like the descending stroke of a pile driver, and always gives him a rheumatic twinge to think about.

Three or four more drinks did the business, by which time Tom was safe from all fears of inspection.

Between the Guard on the one hand, and the necessary official dignity to be preserved the other, the old Briton, as he leaned lovingly on Tom's arm to the passage from the cabin to the ship's jubber, found it exceedingly difficult to maintain his specific gravity. As he rolled over the side, his parting words were, "Her Majesty's officer after 'ard'ous—hic, 'ard'ous—duty—hic! good joke, sir, by Jove, hic; God bless yer, cap'n, hic—an' safe y'yage—safe y'yage back." When last seen the worthy captain was stretched out in the stern sheets of his cutter, snoring an unconscious accompaniment to "When the swallows homeward fly."

We had now only to finish loading, get our clearance from the custom house, and turn our bow homeward. The "Kate," although a trim and beautiful boat, was not the fastest of our blockade runners; but fortunately we were not put to a trial of speed on the return trip. Our cargo being too important to warrant the ordinary risks incurred in running the blockade of Charleston or Wilmington, Captain Oakey determined to land at Smyrna, on the coast of Florida, which was safely done. The Confederate authorities, duly advised of our arrival, then took the cargo in hand, and in the course of ten or fifteen days the arms and ammunition were on their way, in hundreds of wagons, across the country, to the nearest railroad that would convey the long expected aid to the army of the West. I need only add that they reached Corinth in full time, and the battle of Siloh was fought in part with the "Hardware" over which the sturdy John Bullian had been made so boisterously fuddled.

Tom left the ship at Smyrna in charge of the first officer, and came to Charleston; and so ended that trip.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1869.

Conservative and Democratic Nominee.

FOR SENATOR,

FOR THE NINETEENTH DISTRICT,

JOSHUA PERRY,

OF FRANKLIN.

OUR CANDIDATE.

We announce to day, the name of Joshua Perry, Esq., as candidate for the vacant Senatorship in this District. Mr. Perry is a man well known, of sterling integrity and moderation, and Conservative in his views on political subjects. He has an interest in the welfare of the State, and has never shown two faces on questions before the people, nor sung political roundelays in different keys to suit his hearers. We are proud of having such a candidate to vote for, and we feel confident that if the friends of good order and the enactment of wise laws, throughout the District, will but do their duty, we can elect him by a handsome majority. Now let all hands go to work, bring out all the votes, and the result cannot be otherwise than satisfactory.

TAKE UP YOUR CARPET BAGS AND MARCH.

There seems to be a general rejoicing in Virginia over the late election in that State. Virginia was always foremost in great movements. She is now foremost in the work of ridding the South of the misgovernment, corruption and oppression of carpet baggers.

Every carpet bagger will receive the election as an order issued by the people "take up your carpet bags and march."

The people of the South have been too patient under carpet bag rule. Strangers and foreigners will conclude that our meek and quiet submission was but a want of true courage. In this they are greatly mistaken. No people ever came out of an unsuccessful revolution without signs of depression and loss of spirit. That our people have been crestfallen and dispirited, no one can deny. They have had enough to humble and dispirit them.

When England attempted to govern Ireland by carpet-bag influence, such as a Congressional faction has put upon the South, all Ireland was aroused. At first there was no resort to arms; every peaceable remedy was exhausted. In every town, county and city, meetings of the people were held. In the city of Dublin the High Sheriff was called to preside over the meeting; a resolution was adopted which was felt throughout all England. If we could have adopted and enforced the same resolution, our political and constitutional right would have long since be n restored.

The people of Dublin and all Ireland declared that, "we will not from the date hereof, until the grievances of our country shall be removed, directly or indirectly, import or consume any of the manufactures of Great Britain, nor will we deal with any merchant, or shopkeeper, who shall import such manufactures."

When a Radical faction in Congress excluded eight millions of people from their birth right by denying them their political privileges and constitutional rights, there was nothing wanting on the part of the excluded, but a declaration such as the Irish made against the English. The North, in palpable violation of the Constitution, denied us all political privileges and constitutional rights. We should have denied them all commercial and social relations. Such a policy would have given employment to all the idle, both men and women. When money was made it would be invested in the improvement of the soil. Now every dollar made in the South is by our merchants, hurried to the North.

This city is the rendezvous for straggling carpet bag ers. Gen. Laflin, we learn, has not been to Pitt county since his election, more than a year ago. How could he live there? He is like Dr. Grissom, he will not eat with negroes, and the white people of Pitt will not allow him to eat with them. Laflin can say, with truth, in the language of another, "when I go home not five decent white men will shake hands with me." No wonder Laflin can't stay at home. No wonder he has not been home. Governor Holden, we learn, is trying to make a scape goat of carpet baggers for his late political errors and sins. When the carpet baggers are ordered to march, the Governor must fall in with them. They have shared in his triumphs it is proper that he should partake of their troubles and sorrows.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.—MILITARY GOVERNOR OF NORFOLK AT THE YARBOROUGH HOUSE.—If the Confederate soldiers of Col. Cantwell's old Regiment desire to call on their old Colonel, they will find him at the Yarborough House. He is no longer Governor, or Colonel, but Judge Cantwell; striving with Governor Holden, and the Quartermaster, Judge Rodman, "to make treason odious." The trio may quit their work as soon as they make treason as odious as themselves. In saying this much we mean no "contempt of Court."

The Conservative and Democratic Convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate to fill the vacancy at present existing in the 19th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Wake and Franklin, was held yesterday, according to previous notice, at Franklinton.

At 11 o'clock the Convention assembled at the town academy and was called to order by Mr. Jones Fuller, being elected Chairman; Geo. S. Barker of Franklin and J. C. Syme of Wake, were appointed Secretaries. After the transaction of some unimportant business, Capt. J. J. Davis introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That we place before the people of the 19th Senatorial District, Joshua Perry of the county of Franklin, as a candidate upon the platform of the Constitution, universal suffrage and amnesty, an honesty and economical expenditure of the public money, a reduction of the Taxes by which our people are oppressed, and in opposition to the extravagance and peculations of the present administration.

Mr. Davis, in advocacy of the resolution, made a well-timed and able speech, in which the vileness of the present administration was shown up in its true colors, and the true path for all to pursue who have the State's interest really at heart, &c.

The Resolution was then put to a vote and unanimously adopted, when

Mr. Perry arose and in brief but pointed remarks accepted the nomination, endorsing the principles embodied in the resolution, viz: universal suffrage, universal amnesty, reduction of taxes and a more economical administration of the State Government.

Capt. J. Q. DeCarteret, of Wake, being called upon next, addressed the Convention in a spirited and forcible speech, replete with sound arguments and logical conclusions, and gave the present mismanagement of the State affairs many keen thrusts and hard blows.

After some further business the Convention adjourned.

The Convention was well and largely attended, and its proceedings were of the most pleasant and harmonious character, forming quite a contrast to the drunken, disgraceful and turbulent Radical pow-wow which recently brought out a candidate at Louisburg.

WE RECOMMEND the following to the very careful perusal of those of our citizens who paid such loyal reverence and devotion to the late Federal Decoration day.

Taken in connection with the scenes enacted at Arlington, it speaks volumes for the intense christianity and saintly qualities, claimed by the Radical party:—

GEN. F. P. BLAIR, JR, ON THE SOUTHERN SOLDIERS OF THE LATE WAR.—The remarks of Gen. F. P. Blair, at the banquet meeting of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Gulf reunion meeting, held at Long Branch last week, for which he was called to order amidst hisses and other demonstrations, were made after a short speech by Gen. Sheridan, laudat ry of the volunteers of the Union army. Gen. Blair had been called out for a speech, and what follows is thus reported by the New York papers:

Major General Blair said he would say a word for a people who had not yet had a voice raised in their behalf. "I will speak of the people who were once our enemies, and I know that when I speak of them before soldiers I speak before those who will heartily respond. Those against whom we contended, whom we supposed as rebels, and whom we triumphed over as well. They were a great and generous people; they were worthy of the steel of our best. We have heard here of Farragut and Sheridan, but we shall yet hear of Lee and Stonewall Jackson. [Hisses and cries, and great confusion.] Who is it discents?—[Numbers of voices, 'We dissent,' 'I dissent,' 'Think of Andersonville and Libby Prison.'] It would be little merit for us to have triumphed over a mean enemy. [The speaker was again interrupted by a storm of hisses.] I speak of them as our late adversaries. [Cries of 'Traitors.'] Are there no voices to be raised for them? [Cries of 'Yes' and 'No,' great confusion and cries of 'Traitor.']

Admiral Farragut here decided that to introduce anything which interrupted the harmony was out of order.

THE editor of the North Carolinian, published at Elizabeth city, says: "We return our thanks to the people of this city and county for their courtesy and kindness to us a stranger. This has been without distinction of party. It is gratifying to us and tends materially to lighten the labors devolving upon us in our enterprise."

Now, is it not a wonder that he has not been killed and eaten before now? seeing "as how" he is a Northerner and a Radical, come right down here, South, among what a great many Northern newspapers publish, and a great many Northern readers seem to believe, a set of little less than cannibals! He has received courtesy from persons "without distinction of party!" Will not that astonish his Northern friends! The fact is, he has come down here to engage in a laudable, respectable business, and not for the purpose of stealing everything he can lay his hands on, and such being, apparently, the case, it is probable he will continue to receive "courtesy and kindness," and that, too, "without distinction of party."

For the Sentinel.

SALISBURY, July 11, 1869.

Mr. Editor:—The late Railroad meeting held in our town developed some matters which are not likely to be generally known. Carpet bag and Ring influence prevailed in everything. Laflin, a carpet bagger represented the State. In the election of Stockholders, the Raleigh and Gaston Road exercised controlling influence. Dr. Hawkins, though not present, was well represented. It is well known that for years, Messrs. D. A. Davis, Thomas Webb and John L. Morehead have, by their united efforts, succeeded in electing the Directors on the part of the Stockholders. They could have done so this time, but our townsman, Mr. Davis, flew the track and cast his vote against his old friends and with Major Smith, the President of the Road.

It was no sudden move on the part of Mr. Davis. He was deliberate in betraying his old friends. He had been plotting, planning and collecting proxies for some time.

Mr. Davis will find that instead of injuring Messrs. Webb, Morehead and his old friends, he has only damaged himself. Gov. Holden's coming the day before the Convention met, was with a purpose.

ALLEGED CUSTOM-HOUSE FRAUDS.—A few days ago several parties were arrested in New York, charged with custom-house frauds. Among these was a son of Ex-Senator Doolittle. He was subsequently honorably discharged. A son of Senator Van Winkle, of West Virginia, was also arrested; but it is said he can easily establish his innocence. He has been released on bail.

From the Wilmington Journal.

POLITICAL NAMES AND PRINCIPLES.

Our intelligent correspondent, "X," reviews at some length the present "look out" of party politics in this State, and while objecting to some of the declared principles of certain Conservative papers, and a name proposed by another, desires to know what it means. "X" is too intelligent and too careful a student of passing events not to know that the party at the South (and the same is true to some extent at the North) opposed to Radicalism, is composed of men who have hitherto differed very widely in their political views. The Jeffersonian Democrat, and the Henry Clay Whig, the Know Nothing and Foreigner, the Secessionist and Unionist, all have united in a common organization to try to save the State from the evils of Radical success. These citizens were drawn together more from a sense of the imminent danger which threatened than from any real sympathy in political opinions. They are acting together to day in as good faith and with as much zeal as ever did Democrats or Whigs in the olden times. Nay, the bonds of union between the various and different component parts of the present Conservative or Democratic party are stronger than those which have ever hitherto united a political organization in the United States. The objects for which they aim are more calculated to inspire the noble and patriotic, and the dangers which threaten the State and the Republic demands the greatest activity and concert in the present and the kindest toleration for past and present differences of opinion.

No patriotic citizen can look at the condition of North Carolina and long cavil over the name or the minor points of political unity of the organization through which he will attempt a reformation. A son could not stand and witness the assassination of his mother without opposing the the assassin, because he could not decide the means he would use to prevent the murder. North Carolina calls upon her sons to save her from destruction, and she must not be ruined because they differ as to the minor and unessential points of defence. They all agree as to the fact of the danger and the necessity for action and a common line of attack and defense must and will be determined upon.

It can hardly be expected that men who have differed so widely in politics as the editor of the Raleigh Sentinel or of the Salisbury Old North State and ourselves could agree upon all questions now. They were zealous and uncomprising Whigs and Unionists. We as zealously and uncompromisingly adhered to Democracy and Secession. They were as true and honest in their allegiance to principle as we claim for ourselves. Differing thus upon principle, and each influenced by what we believed to be the true welfare of the country, and which led us into such widely different spheres during the war, it required something more than the ordinary course of politics, or the dangers which usually environ a country from a feeble administration of affairs, to have brought us into an earnest and zealous co operation in party politics. We are as ready to defend an attack upon the former Secessionists as they are to protect the principles and feelings of the Unionists.—Each is ready to break a lance with the other in honorable combat in defense of former political principles, but with respect for his opponent's views, and regard for the noble party to which the other was attached. Our present differences are only those of proud reminiscences and cherished memories; our present affiliation is founded upon real, living issues. Our aims are the same. We see the future from the same standpoint if we do look back upon the past with different optics.

North Carolina is in no condition for her sons to quarrel over names or minor points of differences. While her Executive department is filled by prejudiced, dishonest and ignorant men; while her Judiciary is either partisan, or ignorant, or corrupt, one or all; while her funds are criminally squandered, her credit destroyed, and her property owners taxed by and for the benefit of paupers; while her University remains the victim of party malice and stupidity; while her intelligent manhood is ascribed to propitiate the prejudices and demands of ignorant negroes, and the greed and avarice of hungry carpet baggers, the good people of the State have a bond of union more sacred in its obligations than any which ever urged men forward to politics unity and action. When we have accomplished the work before us; when North Carolina is redeemed from the degradation which has been thrust upon her, then can we settle our differences upon a platform high above the disgraceful issue to which government affairs have now been dragged. Until then, we can and will be friends, and afterwards we trust. We can fight Radicalism upon one side, while our friends attack from another quarter, for it is vulnerable at all points. Allow us to differ as to the name of our army, and the arrangement of our forces, but under the same leader and under the same banner we will go forward to victory.

THE MANIPULATION OF APPOINTMENTS BY NEWSPAPER EDITORS.

The following is a copy of the letter written by the editors of the Cincinnati Commercial and Gazette to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and about which so much has been said:

CINCINNATI, March 20, 1869.

Hon. Columbus Delano, Commissioner of Internal Revenue:

The suggestion comes to us through Governor Hayes that we name suitable persons to occupy and administer the Internal Revenue offices of this city. It is unpleasant to take the responsibility of doing this thing, but we do not feel at liberty to decline it.

We would recommend for Collector, First District, John J. Hocker; for Assessor, First District, Col. John C. Kennett; for Collector, Second District, Richard R. Pullen; for Assessor, Second District, Thomas F. Shaw.

In making these recommendations, we have used our best intelligence, looking only to the good of the service, neither of us having any personal feeling in the matter, whatever.

We join in the urgent recommendation that, when action is taken in this matter, the four names should go into the Senate together for confirmation. Without enlarging on this point, we would express, in addition, an impression of its importance.

M. HALSTEAD,
RICHARD SMITH.

WEALTH OF NEW YORK.—The total value of the real and personal property in the city and county of New York for the year 1869, according to a recent official statement, is $964,100,597, against $908,436,327 in 1868, being an increase of $55,664,270. The separate items are as follows in 1869: Real estate, $684,140,768, and personal estate, $279,959,829; in 1868, real estate, $629,926,650; personal estate $268,199,778; so that the real estate has increased $60,904,219, and the personal estate has decreased $5,239,943. Among the items of personal estate, the bank shares are valued at $74,847,134 in 1869, and $75,998,019 in 1868, being a decrease in 1869 of $1,150,885.

ALL SAINTS DAY.

I looked and saw a great and countless multitude
Palms in their hands, a white-robed nation now,
And among all those holy saintly dead
I searched for faces—loved and lost.

I found them there—My dead! The same, yet changed;
Young, with the beauty of that new, immortal day,
The suffering eyes that I had kissed and closed
Gave back the old fond smile. God wiped their tears away.

They knew me too! They kissed the pain-marked face.
Like to a little child, the flesh did come again.
Close, close they held me in the old loved place,
Sheltered upon their hearts—I laid my weight of pain.

I told them of the homesick longing and the weary strife,
The bitter weeping, when we held each other's hands;
They spoke to me of that calm, endless life,
And of the peace they felt within those quiet lands.

Oh! blessed, holy meeting! Earth's dull wants to tell,
And tender words of loving comfort given,
Less sad, the lingering kiss, the long farewell;
Knowing they keep my place, and wait for me in Heaven.

Oh! hallowed day of all God's gathered Saints!
Thou Angel with the golden censer! offer thou
The incense of this thankful heart—and let there rise before the Throne this prayer,
That with those blessed dead, I, too may have my part.

TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1869.

MAJ. THEO. N. RAMSAY, as Business Clerk, is authorized to make contracts and give receipts, &c., &c.

THE weather at Raleigh, N. C., as indicated by the Thermometer at the office of the North Carolina Land Company, Tucker Hall, Tuesday, July 13th:

9 A. M., 88. 3 P. M., 93.
12 M., 91.

SEE New Advertisements to-day.

THE CIRCUS.—We omitted to state, as requested, that Ames' Circus Pavilion will be erected on the vacant lot near the "New Depot," instead of on Nash Square. We suppose this arrangement was adopted because Nash Square was not large enough to allow the show to "spread itself."

OAK CITY COUNCIL, F. OF T.—At a meeting of Oak City Council, No. 16 Friends of Temperance, which was held on Monday night last, the following Committees were appointed to make the necessary preparations for the 3rd Annual Anniversary ceremonies of that Council, to-wit:

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

W. J. Edwards, Jr., M. J. Broughton, J. Henry Crabtree, C. A. Gaylord and F. A. Hatch, on the part of the active members; and Mrs. R. H. Whitaker, Mrs. N. B. Broughton, Miss Blanche Pentress, Miss Jennie Copeland, Miss Bettie Haynes and Miss Ella Hewson, on the part of the Associate members.

COMMITTEE ON HALL.

George W. Poe and Rev. J. J. Carden.

COMMITTEE ON ORATORS.

Thos. H. Hill and Rev. R. H. Whitaker.

COMMITTEE ON INVITATIONS.

W. J. Edwards, Jr., and Miss Blanche Pentress.

A Committee consisting of two Associate members was appointed to see Maj. J. M. Blair, and to ascertain on what terms his dining room could be procured, and, also, to ascertain what he would furnish the supper for the Council at. The Committee consists of Miss Maggie Pentress and Mrs. Thos. L. Jenkins.

The various Committees will meet at the Council Hall on Friday night next and report progress, and, also, to make final arrangements for the occasion.

The Finance Committee will wait upon our citizens, who we trust will contribute liberally.

WANTED TO KNOW!—Who it was that lost a gold watch in the city, yesterday; how it was lost, and where it was found?

PERSONAL.—Among the arrivals in this city to-day, registered at the Yarborough House, we notice the names of Gen. M. W. Ransom, of Northampton, Judge Cantwell, of Wilmington, W. A. Jenkins, Esq., of Warrenton, Col. Walter Clark and Ed Conigland, Esq., of Halifax, and Rev. T. M. Kingsbury, of Oxford.

COW STOLEN.—Mr. Bennet Buffalo, living in this county, missed a milk cow of his, late last evening, after she had been milked and penned for the night. This morning he tracked her to Raleigh and found her in a lot in the Eastern part of the City. The owner of the premises, stated that a negro brought the cow to him last night and offered her for sale, but he, having quit the butchering business, refused to buy. The negro then asked him to let the cow remain in his lot, and requested him to sell her to some of the butchers for him, and he would come in on Saturday morning and get the money, in case she was sold, or take the cow away. The negro is known and an officer has been dispatched for his arrest.

P. S.—The negro has been arrested.

FINE BUGGY.—By invitation, we visited the Coach Shop of Mr. Alfred Upchurch, on Harg tt Street, this morning, where we had the pleasure of inspecting one of the neatest articles in the buggy line we ever saw, of either native or imported work.—The buggy was put up and finished entirely in the Shop of Mr. Upchurch, the wood work being done by Mr. P. P. Williams; and the painting, the neatest job of the kind we have seen for many a day, was done by Mr. James W. Gorman.

There is no use for any of our people, in want of work of this kind, sending abroad for it, when it can be had at home, of as good quality, as highly finished and at as low price as can be had in any establishment North or South.

Mr. Upchurch is putting up a few more of these buggies, which are of the very latest fashion. He also has on hand many others of various styles and can suit almost any taste.

ENCOURAGE THEM.—Messrs Marcom and Millard, two of as industrious and worthy citizens as we have, offer to the people of this community a carefully selected stock of first class groceries, as cheap as they can be purchased anywhere. These gentlemen, we know to be reliable and deserving; therefore we bespeak for them a fair proportion of the public patronage.

They can be found at the Red Front, South side of Hargett, between Fayetteville and Wilmington Streets.

LOST.—Last night between the Post Office and Gas Works, a couple sheets of paper, one of them with a colored drawing on it. Any one finding them will please return them to this office, as a liberal reward will be paid for their recovery.

CALPEY BAG DAVIS.—Is it true that Governor Holden's friend, the above named, who is Senator from Montgomery and Randolph, and Treasurer of the Fayetteville and Western Road, was well beaten with a chair by a widow lady of Montgomery, for insulting her? Will some citizen of Montgomery give us the facts? We don't care to expose Davis, but it goes to the discredit of Gov. Holden and his administration, that he prefers such carpet baggers for official positions.

THE D. M.—We were becoming uneasy at the continued silence in regard to the Governor's pet detailed mellish, sent down to Jones county to do something, the Lord knows what, until this morning, when three of them turned up in Raleigh, ragged, dirty and hungry, and about as sick of soldiering as any set of volunteers we have seen. They report great demoralization in the ranks of the D. M., and state that many have deserted and are working their way homeward as best they can. They say that instead of two dollars a day as promised them, they were only paid $16 a month, and had two dollars and eighty cents deducted from that, for a uniform hat, which hats were bought at a government auction sale at a dollar and a half a dozen. They state further that their fare in camp was intolerable, consisting of corn bread and fat bacon, and not even enough of these.

We expect to hear, before long, of Courts-Martial, and trials for desertion, and, perhaps, a dozen of the poor fellows may be shot.

If Governor Holden is not ashamed of this whole militia business, it is hard to conjecture what could make him ashamed. There was no necessity for the thing at all, as the result has shown. It has only entailed a useless expense upon the people, and given employment to some of his hungry hangers on.

The people will remember all these things.

"INCIDENTS IN THE LIFE OF A BLIND GIRL."—This is the title of a neatly printed and well bound volume of over two hundred pages, a copy of which has been laid on our table by the authoress, Miss Mary L. Day, a graduate of the Maryland Institution for the Blind.

Miss Day visits our city for the purpose of selling her books, from the proceeds of which she is enabled to travel for the benefit of her health, which has been declining. The book itself is worth the money asked for it—one dollar—apart from any other consideration to induce persons to purchase it. It is written in a plain and interesting style, giving the experiences of the writer who, at an early age was suddenly shut out from the glorious sunlight, and the beauties of nature. The sale of her book is her only pecuniary resource, and we cheerfully commend her and her book to the kindly reception of our citizens.

The Chatham Educational Association meets at Pittsboro 22nd, July 1869.

The Introductory Address will be delivered by Willie J. Palmer, A. M., of the N. C. Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

Essays will be read by Rev. M. Exum of Mt. Vernon High School; Rev. Mr. Sutton of Locust Hill Female Seminary; Mr. Denson of Pittsboro Scientific Academy and Prof. McIver of the University.

The Committee on Text Books are requested to meet at Mr. Manning's Law Office on Wednesday evening, at the same hour, the Executive Committee are requested to meet at Mr. York's Law Office.

Members attending will be passed at one fare by the various Railroad Companies.

A GREAT INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.—The American Institute will give an Exposition of Agricultural, Mechanical, Artistic and other productions, in the City of New York commencing on the 8th of September next. Persons having anything to exhibit and wishing to be represented will receive full particulars by addressing S. D. Tillman, Corresponding Secretary of American Institute, New York.

ENGINEERING AND MINING JOURNAL.—We have received a number of this excellent publication, and placed it on our exchange list. We recommend it to those of our readers engaged in mechanical and scientific pursuits, as affording valuable information in all recent discoveries in art and science, and improvement in mechanism. It is published at $5 a year by Western & Co., 37, Park Row, N. Y.

PERSONAL.—We learn that the Hon. E. A. Rollins, late Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is now acting as President of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, at the Company's Branch Office, in Philadelphia, during the temporary absence in Europe, of the President, C. H. Clark, Esq. Mr. Rollins has been an active member of the Board of Directors of this Company since its organization, and in giving to its interest the benefit of his personal co-operation, and the advantages of his enlarged experience and extensive acquaintance, we confidently look for a renewed impetus to be given to the already unprecedented progress of this great National Institution.

See advertisement of P. F. Pescud, General Agent.

KOSKOO, the great Liver Invigorator, Blood Purifier, and Renovator, prepared by Dr. J. J. Lawrence, the celebrated Physician and Chemist, is a SAFE, PLEASANT, and RELIABLE remedy, for the PREVENTION and CURE of the diseases caused by a TORPID LIVER, IMPURE BLOOD, DISORDERS of the KIDNEYS, or DEBILITY of the NERVOUS SYSTEM.

It REGULATES the secretions, ERADICATES all HUMORS or TAINTS, restores lost or wasted nervous power, and at the same time builds up and imparts tone and vigor to the whole system.

AN INGENIOUS INVENTION.—A piece of mechanism for transferring railroad cars from one track to another without necessitating the running of the car several hundred feet backward or forward, as the case may be, and without the use of switches, has been patented within the last few days. The practical advantages of it are a saving depot room and of time, and railroad men say that it possesses some intrinsic merit.

Judge Brockenborough, of Va., is lying at his house very ill from the effects of a sunstroke received a few days since.

STATE NEWS.

DROUGHT.—Brother Waring of the Carolina Times fears that a drought has set in. There can be no controversy on the question, and he can now exercise his fears as to how long it will last.

One source of burdensome taxation on the people is the great frequency of the meetings of the County Commissioners, and the tenacious persistency with which they hang on when they do meet. We venture to say if there was a legal limit to these exhaustive suctions of the public Treasury, vulgarly called "meetings," even three or four times in the year, and only of three days' duration at a time, the benefits would be much greater; while the saving to the oppressed tax payers of the State would be millions upon millions!—Wadesboro Argus.

What will you say when the Township officers commence operations? They must have a living, or part of one, wrung from the earnings of those who pay taxes.

The splendid beauties of our new Constitution are not half apparent, yet!!—Charlotte Democrat.

WILL RELIEVE HIM.—We learn that the first Baptist Church Conference held Tuesday night resolved to henceforth relieve their Pastor, the Rev. J. C. Hiden, of night preaching, until the new church is completed.—Wilmington Star.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST.—The Star of the 11th says, the City Treasurer was yesterday engaged in paying the interest on the "Town Hall and New Issue" City bonds. About $4 000 were paid to the holders of the bonds.

SENT TO NEW YORK.—Robert Garvin, the colored man who some time ago robbed the post office at Magnolia, and was sentenced to two years imprisonment in a penitentiary, was yesterday taken from jail, where he had been confined since his trial, and sent under guard to the penitentiary at Albany, New York, Col. Samuel T. Carrow, U. S. Marshal for this State, called for the prisoner, and departed with him for his destination.—Star.

A NEW MODE OF PUNISHMENT.—A white woman whose "young un" had been "a eatin dirt" appeared at the depot of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad yesterday and proceeded to souse the erring youth in the large water tank, prepared for the supply of engines, until he could scarcely breathe. A rope was tied around his waist, by which the youngster was recovered after every plunge, and the punishment was only stopped when he was half drowned.—After accomplishing what she desired the mother coolly took her young hopeful in tow and started for home quite satisfied that she had broken him of "a eatin dirt."—Wilmington Journal.

The Executive Committee of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association have so far completed their arrangements as to announce to the people of the fifteen counties of Eastern Carolina, that are represented in the association, as well as to the people of the State at large, that they will hold their first Annual Fair at their extensive fair grounds, (of 120 acres) near the city of Wilmington, about the middle of November next, (the exact days to be announced in due time.)

The R. W. Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., for the State of North Carolina, will hold its next session at Tarboro', in the Hall of Edgecombe Lodge, No. 50, on the 20th inst. We understand that business of great importance to the Order will be transacted, and a full attendance is desired.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Judge Chase has ordered a hearing of the application for Habeas Corpus in the Yerger case now under trial in Mississippi by military commission for the killing of Col. Crane. At eleven o'clock, Wednesday, Chase has ordered notice of the hearing to be served upon the Attorney General. Judge Chase it appears has no discretion in the matter. The first point argued will be that of jurisdiction if that be decided affirmatively then the merits of the military commission will be argued, because the Judge will not grant a habeas corpus unless the facts alleged in the petition would enable him to discharge the prisoner. In other words, Judge Chase will not have the prisoner brought from Mississippi only to recommit him to the custody of that commission.

In this branch of the hearing the recent opinion of Attorney General Hoar in the Weaver case comes up for review and adjudication; and a decision of the constitutionality of the part of the reconstruction acts authorizing military trials in the present condition of the country will be given.

Judge Louis Dent writes a letter addressed to J. L. Wofford and A. L. Jenks, responding to a letter tendering Dent the nomination of the conservative Republican party of Mississippi for Governor, wherein Dent says, "If I can in the least be instrumental in restoring the state of my adoption to her normal place in the Union, and securing to her a good loyal administration you have permission to use my name for any position within the gift of the National Union Republican party of your State. The platform adopted by your convention at Jackson, on the 23rd of June last, I most heartily approve and endorse."

The Howard Asylum of Georgia for aged and infirm negroes has been organized, Jacob R. Davis, President; Wm. P. Edwards, Vice President, and seven Directors.

He came to-day nearly a million.

The President departs Thursday for Long Branch, to be absent two weeks.

The Conservatives of Texas and Mississippi have little hope this evening of securing an election earlier than the last of November.

Nothing pointed has transpired regarding Gov. Walker's interview with Grant, beyond noncommittal cordiality.

The President has appointed George T. Jarvis Collector of Customs at Cherrystone, Va.; Isaac Strail, Appriser of Merchandise at Savannah, Ga.

Mr. Roberson, the new Secretary of the Navy, responding to New Jersey friends said regarding Grant's administration: "As the policy by which the rebellion was finally entombed was the policy of acts rather than professions, so the policy of the present administration under Grant's administration must be judged by its fruits. With no startling announcements, with no professions of splendid policy, the administration of Gen. Grant endeavors quietly, persistently and honestly, to perform each day the duties which each day finds before it."

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, July 13.—The Emperor Napoleon yields to the Corps Legislatif. No change of Ministry has been yet announced, but an early re-organization is certain throughout. The Emperor has exhibited peculiar tact and shrewdness. He had nearly all the members of the Corps Legislatif to dinner and soiree at St. Cloud, chatted playfully with many of them of different shades of opinion and giving expression to many piquant sayings.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

WHAT MAKES A WOMAN?

Thoughts Suggested on Reading the Lines "What Makes a Man?"

Not costly dress nor queenly air;
Not jeweled hand, complexion fair,
Not graceful form nor lofty tread,
Not pearl, nor curls, nor splendid head;
Not pearly teeth nor sparkling eye,
Not even that sightliness a curse;
Not breath as sweet as eglantine,
Not gaudy gems nor fabrics fine;
Not all the charms of fashion's mart,
Nor yet the blandishments of art;
Not one, nor all of these combined
Can make one woman true, refined.

'Tis not the casket that we prize,
But that which in the casket lies.
These outward charms that please the sight
Are naught unless the heart be right.
She, to fulfill her destined end,
Must with her beauty goodness blend;
Must make it her incessant care
To deck herself with jewels rare;
Of priceless gems must be possessed,
In robes of richest beauty dressed.
Yet these to grace the life aright must wed,
To purify the most refined.

She who doth all these goods combine
Can man's rough nature well refine;
Hath all she needs in this frail life
To fit for mother, sister, wife;
He who possesses such a friend,
Should cherish well till death doth end.
Woman, in fine, the mate should be,
To sail with man o'er life's rough sea;
And, when the stormy cruise is o'er,
Attend him to fair Canaan's shore.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English; and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for two dollars comes in possession of a homestead, which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a mere agency for the sale of property, for the true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents most already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the Secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the explanatory drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the gratified satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

☞ One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or other gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.
